

Corporate Services

Every corporate client faces a unique set of business and real estate challenges. That's why NAI Global's managed network makes it our business to understand every aspect of yours. Within the network you'll have a primary point of contact – a senior corporate services executive (CSE) – who will leverage all our enterprise resources wherever you need them around the world.

It's an approach that is both client-driven and results-oriented, and that harnesses the power of technology to track transaction progress and portfolio performance. NAI's proprietary, award-winning technology platform, REALTrac™ Online, supports our account teams as they develop strategies and manage assignments in diverse markets, providing clients with clear and customized report benchmarking on projects, transactions and leases.

Whatever your business objectives, our leading-edge technology will support all your global moves, from streamlining a business unit to extracting value from your portfolio to more efficient management of your projects and leases worldwide.

Brokerage Services – NAI's 3,500 brokerage professionals are specialists focused on the practice areas of office, retail, industrial, investment and land. Each NAI professional can deliver local market expertise, as well as customized systems and resources on the broadest and most sophisticated scale. Our local brokers are not alone – they are supported by Global Specialty Councils that share best practices and pool group resources to provide optimal solutions in both acquisition and disposition. Throughout the process, accountability is critical, and the client's NAI CSE maintains control by leveraging all the resources of the enterprise on their behalf. Whether it's 10 markets or 100, we create a responsive chain of command that works to answer your commercial real estate needs, all from a single source.

Financial and Investment Services – From acquisition and disposition to capitalization and mortgage finance, the NAI network provides clients with unmatched decision support up-front and maximized value creation in execution. Your NAI professional starts with an in-depth understanding of your business operations and financial goals, then provides viable and actionable options to support core business objectives
